

American Red Cross

Thursday, January 26, 2012

Yank,

Because of your generosity, the American Red Cross maintains its critical role in lifesaving services down the street, across the country and around the world. Thank you for your gift today. Helping where the needs are greatest.

Our Red Cross mission is carried out at the community level – responding to disasters, training communities and providing services to our men and women in the Armed Forces. We're a global network of 97 million employees, volunteers and members – a corps of humanitarian ambassadors reaching out to friends and neighbors in their hour of need. Thank you for joining us in our work.

Your gift can be seen every day, in a variety of ways. You help us empower people to respond to everyday emergencies through lifesaving skills such as CPR and first aid training. We're a support system for service members and their families – connecting them with emergency messages when they are deployed and caring for them when they return home. You also ensure we can continue to provide more than 40% of the nation's blood supply, bringing lifesaving blood to tens of thousands of people every day.

Thank you again for your support and for touching the lives of others year round through the Red Cross.

Learn more about your gift at work by visiting www.redcross.org.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "L. Rhinehart".

Lauri Rhinehart
Vice President of Development Operations

P.S. Look for your limited edition Red Cross pin in the mail in the next 10-15 days. Thank you again for joining us!